Instructions

The loomed portion of this design measures 4.75 inches and the clasp adds anywhere from half an inch to three inches depending upon where you latch it (it is adjustable). You can easily make the loom portion longer by just looming more rows of solid black on each end. Please note you will also want a scrap piece of wire or toothpick to apply your glue.

1. To make this bracelet, you will be watching a series of videos. You will also be following the loom pattern that goes with the project.
2. Thread 8 feet of Nymo thread onto your loom needle.
3. To begin, please watch the video: How to Use the Jewel Loom Beading Loom. From what you learn in this video, please thread your loom with 12 warp threads so that you can create a beaded piece that is 11 beads wide.
4. Following what you learned in the video and your pattern, do the beadwork on your loom. When you get to within 15 inches of thread, please watch the video: How to Tie Off and Add More Thread in Loom Work. You will need to add another length of thread, again make it around 8 feet long. Add your thread and continue beading. When you are all done, tie your weft threads off and work in their tails.
5. To finish off your beadwork and remove it from the loom, please watch the video: How to Finish Off Traditional Loom Work and Add a Slider Clasp.
6. The final step to this project is to make the decorative element for the end of the clasp. To see how to do this, please watch the video: How to Bead Weave a Decorative Element for a Clasp.
7. If at any time during this project you get confused, there is also a video titled: How to Make the Beaded Loom Bracelet Kits by Beadaholique that will show you all the steps (except for the decorative clasp element) in one video.
