

Sweetheart Bracelet

Project B1126

Designer: Megan Milliken

This pretty Chan Luu style bracelet features transparent rainbow bugle beads, which give a great texture to the piece while showing off the red threads used. A sweet red crystal heart button finishes the bracelet.

Instructions

These instructions will make a bracelet that measures approximately 6.5" long. You can add extra loops for your button to go through to allow your bracelet to adjust to a longer length if necessary.

1. Before you begin, watch the video: How to Make a Chan Luu Style Wrap Bracelet. This video will demonstrate how to make this style of bracelet.
2. Following the instructions in the video, begin your bracelet using 1mm black pleather cord and a SWAROVSKI ELEMENTS heart button in light siam.
3. Use size 2 red Griffin silk cord and size 3 transparent rainbow crystal bugle beads to weave the main section of your bracelet.
4. Continue to weave until your beads measure about 5", which should be approximately 72 beads total.

5. Finish off the bracelet as demonstrated in the video. If you do not want the bracelet to be adjustable, trim your ends after the second knot, so that you end up with only one loop for the button to go through. Otherwise, create as many loops as you need to achieve the proper size. Apply a dab of E6000 glue to the last knot and allow it to dry thoroughly before wearing.
