Instructions:

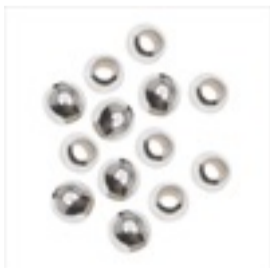

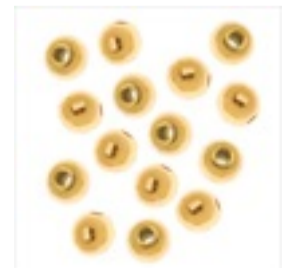

These instructions will give you a bracelet that is 7".

1. For this project two of the three strands will be the same. The strand in the center will be a little different than the other two.
2. To begin, take one eye pin and add 1 3mm round rose gold bead, 1 6mm round crystal, and 1 3mm round rose gold bead. Make a simple wire loop to complete this "link". Repeat this step another 19 times. Now start connecting these links together, attaching them via their simple wire loops that you will open and close just like jump rings.
3. Create 2 strands that are 10 links long each.
4. For the center strand, it is a similar process. Take one eye pin and add 1 6mm filigree bead, 1 3mm round rose gold bead, 1 6mm round crystal, 1 3mm round rose gold bead, and 1 6mm filigree bead. Make a simple wire loop. Repeat this step 3 more times.
5. On another eye pin add 1 3mm round rose gold bead, 1 6mm round crystal, and 1 3mm round rose gold bead. Make a simple wire loop. Repeat this step 2 more times.
6. You will attach your links together and complete the center strand so that the final strand will be: a filigree link, a crystal link, a filigree link, a crystal link, a filigree link, a crystal link, and one final a filigree link.
7. If you lay out your three completed strands with the filigree one in the middle, you can begin attaching them to the 3 strand clasp. Just as you would a jump ring, open the simple wire loop at the end of the first strand and close it around the loop of the clasp. Repeat this for each strand on both sides.

Variations

This is a great bracelet to make in a variety of metals.

When substituting in items, pay attention to sizes and styles to make sure all your pieces will fit together.
