

The Patsy Bangle Bracelet

Project B684 [Skill Level: Beginner]

Designer: Julie Bean

Pastel pearl cabochons arranged in a polka dot pattern look lovely this retro inspired bracelet. This would be a fun accessory to wear alone or stack multiples in different colors together on the same wrist.

Instructions:

You will need a paint brush for this project. I suggest getting a paint brush approximately the width of the channel and with a blunt tip.

1. Shake your Vintaj patina bottle well and then squeeze a small amount of paint onto a plastic baggie or plastic paint pallet. Paint an even coat of patina in the inside channel of the bangle bracelet. Make this an even thin coat. Let dry.
2. Repeat the above step 3 to 5 times until you have a nice opaque layer of paint covering your channel. You do not want to see the metal of the bracelet show through the paint.
3. Using the fine tip applicator of the GS HypoCement, make a dot of glue in your bangle channel.
4. Use your magical pick to pick up a cabochon pearl and place it into the dot of glue. Let dry.
5. Repeat the previous 2 steps until you have applied as many dots of pearls as you want.
6. Enjoy!

Variations

Choose from a wide selection of Vintaj Patina paints to paint your bangle channel.

When substituting in items, pay attention to sizes and styles to make sure all your pieces will fit together.
