Instructions:

1. Thread a 6mm bead on to two headpins and create a simple loop. trim off excess wire.
2. Thread a 4mm bead on to four headpins and create a simple loop, trim off excess wire.
3. Add the smaller dangles you have just created to the outermost holes on both rivoli bezels.
4. Add the larger dangles to the center holes on both rivoli bezels.
5. Using the same method you would use to open a jump ring, open the loops on each earring hook and thread through the single hole on each rivoli bezel and gently close the loop again.
6. Using a toothpick, dab a small amount of the E6000 glue on to the back of the rivolis and set into place in the bezels. Glue will set in about six minutes and full curing occurs within twenty-four hours.
